

Employees who are summoned for jury duty or to testify are entitled to receive their regular wages for the time spent in court. Employees who are summoned for jury duty or to testify are entitled to receive their regular wages for the time spent in court.